

I am your God

"I am your God, accept it and believe it
Yes I create, destroy, do what I really want
And when you all reject and don't receive it
You're questioning the Great "I'm who I am."
Who are you? Aren't you only people?
Why do you judge your God and tell Me what to do
Figuring out if I'm wrong a little
I do that what I want, and there's nothing you can do.
I won't report to you on what I'm thinking
I'm God, I'm sovereign. God pleases and then does.
You would be gods if understood completely
My ways, decisions, character - I Have No Flaws.

I privileged you, even put over angels,
To be the bride of Jesus Christ your God,
I love you and love you for one reason
I'm God of love. Love wants to be expressed.
So that is why My spoken word created
This universe and earth and all you see
To show you My love, My chosen people,
You don't deserve it, yes, but take it, free.
There is nothing you can do to make Me
Love you any more or, in fact, any less
I love you still, throughout endless ages
Forever will, remember that."
with love, your God.
